2022 Commencement Speaker

President Framroze Virjee
California State University, Fullerton

Framroze “Fram” Virjee is president of California State University, Fullerton, the largest institution in the California State University (CSU) system, serving more than 40,000 students with an operating budget of half a billion dollars. As chief executive officer, Fram provides leadership for more than 4,000 educators within an inclusive academic environment, overseeing all aspects of the university’s operations — from academic and administrative to finance and technology — in close collaboration with faculty, staff, students, alumni, and the extended Titan Family.

Under Fram’s leadership, graduation rates have risen to all-time highs and opportunity gaps have sunk to all-time lows. The university is now No.1 in California for conferring baccalaureate degrees to women and Hispanics; No. 2 in the nation for graduating underrepresented students; and with more than 80,000 applications this fall, a first-choice institution known for its national rankings in both academic rigor and lowest net cost.

A first-generation college student, Fram received his J.D. (cum laude) from the University of California, Hastings College of Law in 1985; and his Bachelor of Arts (summa cum laude) in political science and sociology from the University of California, Santa Barbara in 1982.

Student Commencement Speaker

Malia Arpon

Student of Distinction

Malia Arpon is a Fullerton local and returning student. As a Communications Studies major, her passion for all forms of communication have been the driving force in pursuing leadership positions on campus. Arpon has devoted her time at Fullerton College to the Speech and Debate team, The Hornet, Associated Students, Phi Theta Kappa, Alpha Gamma Sigma, the Hornet Leadership Program, the Women's Soccer Team, and the Honors Program.

However, Arpon holds her involvement with the Office of Campus Communications as a Student Ambassador and with the North Orange County Community College District (NOCCCD) Equal Employment Opportunity

Advisory Committee as the Appointed Student Representative dear to her heart. Beyond Fullerton College, she plans to take her experiences to San Diego State University in the fall. Her goal is to pursue a Bachelor in Health Communications alongside the pre-veterinary route for graduate school.

Student Commencement Speaker

Wythenia Cruz

Student of Distinction

Wythenia Cruz is a first-generation reentry student, who started college after raising her family. She went back to school to become part of the solution rather than part of the problem.

A Sociology major, she enjoys applying the lessons learned over the years, both in school and out of it. She approached every class as an opportunity to gain new information, grow in knowledge, and meet new and interesting people. During her time at Fullerton College, she was active in Associated Students, serving as a Senator, Vice President of Senate, and Vice President of Public Relations. She was awarded Student of Distinction for Personal

Achievement, Honors certification, and is a member of the Sociology Club, as well as the honors societies Phi Theta Kappa and Alpha Gamma Sigma.

Having special-needs kids has taught her empathy. She believes that we all struggle, some just do it more openly than others. Kindness does not take more energy than harshness, and it makes a huge difference for so many. The pandemic has made empathy a precious commodity, and she encourages people to treat others with compassion.

Deidre Hughes, Professor, Humanities

2022 Faculty of the Year

Deidre Hughes has been a full-time Fullerton College instructor for 30 years. She coordinates the college's mindfulness program and teaches for-credit, transfer-level mindfulness courses. She specializes in leading students, staff, teachers, and administrators to integrate mindfulness and self-compassion practices into their daily lives. She is a Trained Teacher for Mindful Self-Compassion (MSC) as well as Mindful Self-Compassion for Teens and Young Adults (MSC-T). She is also a Trained Teacher of Project Wayfinder, a program launched at Stanford University's d.school (Hasso Plattner Institute of Design), which guides participants through contemplative practices that foster a mindset founded upon belonging, meaning and purpose. Hughes holds certifications from the International Mindfulness Teachers Association and Mindful Schools.

Fullerton College students nominated Hughes for her leadership in advancing mindfulness, contemplative practices, and growth opportunities college-wide through her co-leadership of the Mindful Growth Initiative. She is credited for launching the first course in California community colleges that focuses exclusively on the practices of mindfulness and self-compassion. The course was launched at Fullerton College in 2020 and has since grown in the number of sections offered each semester.

Hughes' teaching philosophy centers on creating a safe space for students through special instructional pedagogies, such as problem-posing education, community-based inquiry, and service learning. Students have said that her classroom is not just a place of learning, but a catalyst for a collaborative environment paved with mutual respect, and a place of refuge, belonging, growth, exploration, healing, discovery, and community. She has institutionalized her practices to foster change in the instructional and cultural landscape of Fullerton College.

A Description of Fullerton College's Degrees

Associate in Arts Degree

The Associate in Arts (AA) Degree prepares students for direct employment and/or continued study at a university in a designated major toward a bachelor's degree. The degree combines a broad education base with specific courses in a subject area (the major) and allows elective options for students to explore courses of interest (electives).

Associate in Science Degree

The Associate in Science (AS) Degree is designed to prepare students for direct employment in both the technical and applied sciences, blending major course preparation and general education or continued study at a university in a designated major toward a bachelor's degree.

Associate in Arts and Associate in Science Degrees for Transfer

The Student Transfer Reform Act (Senate Bill 1440) guarantees admission to a California State University (CSU) campus for any community college student who completes an associate degree for transfer, a variation of the associate degrees traditionally offered at a California community college. The Associate in Arts for Transfer (AA-T) or the Associate in Science for Transfer (AS-T) degrees are intended for students who plan to complete a bachelor's degree in a similar major at a CSU campus. Students completing these degrees are guaranteed admission to the CSU system, but not to a particular campus or major.

Academic Regalia

The academic dress associated with college commencement ceremonies has been inherited from the medieval universities of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. Principal features of the academic dress are the gown, hood, and cap.

The Gown

While originally worn as protection against the cold of unheated buildings, today the gown has become symbolic of scholarly attire. The color of the gown is traditionally black, however the color of the gown may represent the school or college at all degree levels. For the bachelor's degree, it has pointed sleeves; for the master's degree, closed sleeves with a slit at the arm or wrist; for the doctorate, full bell double sleeves. The bachelor's and master's degree gowns have no trimming; for the doctorate, the gown is fastened down the front and trimmed with velvet and has three bars of velvet across the sleeves.

The Hood

The hood varies in size from the associate in arts degree, which covers the shoulder area, to the doctorate, which is four feet in length. The colors of the silk lining(s) and velvet bands of the hood worn in the academic procession have specific and official significance. The silk linings of the hood bear the color or colors of the college from which the wearer graduated. The color of the band around the hood designates the academic major in which the wearer has taken his or her degree. Examples of the discipline color are as follows.

Arts and Letters	White
Commerce and Business Education	Khaki
Counseling	Light Blue
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Government	Peacock
Public Health	Salmon Pink
Journalism	Dark Crimson
Law	Purple
Library Science	Lemon
Medicine	Kelly Green
Music	Pink
Nursing	Apricot
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Science	Gold
Speech	Silver

The Cap and Tassel

The academic cap denotes freedom of scholarship and the responsibility and dignity with which the scholarship endows the wearer.

The navy blue and gold tassel identifies those who are graduating with an associate in arts or an associate in science degree. A gold tassel denotes life membership in either the Alpha Gamma Sigma Honor Society or the Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society.

The Cord, Sash and Medallions

- A gold cord denotes graduation with honors (cumulative G.P.A. of 3.30-3.74).
- Two gold cords denote graduation with high honors (cumulative G.P.A. of 3.75 or greater).
- A gold sash denotes life membership in the Alpha Gamma Sigma Honor Society.
- A golden PTK monogrammed honors stole and double honor cord denote permanent membership in the Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society.
- A monogrammed royal blue stole with a gold trim signifies the graduate is a Student of Distinction.
- A gold medallion with blue ribbon denotes a student who is transferring to a four-year institution.

Chain of Office and College Medallion

The chain of office and college medallion are worn by the college President during commencement and other events when regalia is worn. The chain of office is comprised of banner links, each engraved with the name and years of service for each president of the college since its founding in 1913.

When not in use, the chain of office and presidential medallion are kept on display in the President's office.

Alma Mater

Words by Betty Frazee, 1922 · Music by Harry Brisco

VERSE

*All hail to Alma Mater,
Thy glories cannot die
So long as loyal hearts are true,
So long as heroes vie.
For honors in the field and hall
Thy name shall ever be
The challenge and the trumpet call
That leads to victory.*

CHORUS

*How can thy children well forget
The golden and the blue?
They're mirrored in the sunshine
And skies of azure hue.
God writes thy colors everywhere
In shadow and in flame.
Then hail our Alma Mater,
All hail by thy glorious name!*
